Boulevard Spotlight

Halloween parade and costume contest was a sweet success

Brookline Together would like to thank the businesses that generously donated their time and energy to make Halloween a memorable event for the community's children and their families. Boulevard businesses contributed by handing out candy and drinks, gift bags, t-shirts, free pizza slices, and more.

Be proactive!

If you see something wrong in your neighborhood, don't just share the experience on social media. Make city authorities aware. Call 311. If you see an emergency or a crime in progress, dial 911. If you have ideas about community safety and security, please join Brookline's community Block Watch, which meets Tuesday, Nov. 11, at 6:30 p.m. at Judge Motznik's Magistrate's Office, 736 Brookline Boulevard. There will be a wheel lock giveaway for late model Kia and Hyundai owners (bring your registration card and driver's license).
